Record

During my summer vacation, I volunteered at a local animal shelter. Every morning, I helped feed and play with the dogs and cats. It was a fulfilling experience, as I saw how much they appreciated the attention.

I also assisted in organizing adoption events, hoping to find loving homes for the animals. Through this volunteering, I learned about responsibility and compassion. It was heartwarming to see the joy on the faces of the families adopting pets.

This experience not only enriched my summer but also deepened my connection to the community and instilled a sense of empathy that I carry with me.
